

Psychotherapists and Counsellors Professional Liaison Group (PLG)

PLG workplan

Executive summary and recommendations

Introduction

A workplan for the PLG was agreed by the HPC Council on 3 July 2008.

The PLG's workplan is attached together with an indication of the group's plan of activities. The workplan has been revised now that the PLG has been formed, to include the meeting dates.

The workplan will be revised to take account of the group's progress and developing work and will be brought back to each meeting.

Psychotherapists and Counsellors Professional Liaison Group (PLG) Workplan

1. PLG sponsor

The Council

2. PLG Mission Statement / Terms of reference

To investigate and make recommendations to the Council on the future regulation of counselling and psychotherapy. The group should discuss and recommend the following:

- Structure of the Register
- Protected title(s)
- Voluntary register transfer and Grandparenting arrangements
- Standards of Proficiency
- Standards of Education and Training

The group should also collect information about potential registrant numbers, voluntary registers and existing education and training programmes.

At the chair's discretion, the group may wish to consider and make recommendations about other matters which are relevant to the statutory regulation of psychotherapists and counsellors, but which do not fall under these headings.

The group's recommendations will inform the Council's recommendations to the Secretary of State for Health.

3. Meetings

The timetable allows for five meetings.

4. Membership

The membership of the PLG has been determined.

5. Timetable

The following is a draft timetable for the PLG's work.

The plan assumes five meetings and that the Council will consider the outcomes of the group's work, identify any next steps and finalise its recommendations to the Secretary of State at its meeting in July 2009.

Meetings will be 10.30am to 3.30pm unless otherwise agreed with the Chair.

This is an indicative timetable. Any subsequent minor alterations to the timetable will be agreed with the chair.
